WHAT PLEASURE WE CAN FIND IN OUR LIFE

Well, I think everyone tries to enjoy its life and look for different pleasures. Maybe you are thinking about traveling or different food, I mean cuisine.

The time flies and sometimes we do not appreciate the most relevant aspects of our life. When we do not have a job, at least, a good job, we complain about that and we forget about enjoying our life. For instance, my grandma never had a proper job but she was always happy for being around her family even though she couldn't afford as many things as she would have liked it.

Maybe you are the one who knows that already. I was 30 years old when I realized that I wasn't enjoying my life because I was too much obsessed with getting a good job. Now, I am always trying to enjoy everyday and appreciating every person such as my English teacher in this college. I feel so lucky to have her. Not only does she teach us, but she also cheers up us in every class. What more can I expect? Absolutely, nothing. She is so awesome. I would like to say thank you after every class but I don't want to seem that I am sucking up to her. Another example, some of my classmates, there are a girl and a woman who are so special for me. The woman is always telling me that my English is good and saying funny things like: 'you speak really well, I really love to hear you'. And I really love meeting with her in every class. The girl is so shy but she is fabulous, she is honest and humble. I hope to keep my relationship with them.

Anyway, those are the things I appreciate and make my life. This is my way to say thank you to all those people who get that I could enjoy my life. Maybe for them it is a silly thing or they think they do not do anything for me, but they do.

ROSA MARIA MORENO

During these days, a Chinese television producer is recording a travel program in Argamasilla de Alba that will tell the Quixote's story in the region of La Mancha and especially in that village.

By Silvia de la Calle

In order to do that, the presenters of the program, Xiao Tian Tian – actress and TV programs presenter – and Sam Wang – ex-member of the music band 5566, presenter and well-known actor in China – together with the whole team and the mayor of Argamasilla de Alba, Pedro Ángel Jiménez, visited and learnt about the Cave of Medrano in order to learn the story and tradition of Cervantes.

They are staying in the Montalvo Wilmot winery, where they have recorded the winery, vineyards and the environment. Furthermore, the production team is moving to different places in the region, guided by the winery professionals.

The result of these ten days in Spain will be available for viewing in January 2018 in China and in Taiwan through the best-known television channels in this part of the world, TV Asia Digital. We will also be able to watch it on the web in several Asian platforms: www.iqiyi.com and www.youku.com.

JOY DIVISION

By Jesús Cañas, 2ºB Advanced English

Joy Division were a British rock band formed in 1976 in Salford, Greater Manchester by Ian Curtis (vocal, guitar), Bernard Sumner (guitar, keyboards), Peter Hooky Hook (bass guitar, backing vocals), and Stephen Morris aka The Human Drum Machine (drums, percussion). They were originally named Stiff Kittens, then changed their name to Warsaw and finally became Joy Division.

Created in the wake of the punk explosion in England, Joy Division became the first band in the post-punk movement. Though the group's raw initial sides fit the bill for any punk band, Joy Division later incorporated synthesizers (taboo in the low-tech world of '70s punk) and more haunting melodies, emphasized by the isolated lyrics of his leader, Ian Curtis. While the British punk movement shocked the world during the late 1970s, Joy Division proved to be just as important to independent music in the 1980s.

Shortly after the suicide of Ian Curtis on the 18 May 1980 –following troubles with grand mal seizures (a form of epilepsy), depression, and other personal factors happening in his life– the band was renamed New Order, following a pact between all four members made long before Curtis's death that should any member leave.

I recommend you to listen to the best Joy Division's hit[1], Love will tear us apart, one of the most adapted songs in the world.

Lyrics

When the routine bites hard, and ambitions are low, and resentment rides high, but emotions won't grow, and were changing our ways taking different roads. Then love, love will tear us apart again.	Do you cry out in your sleep all my failings expose? Get a taste in my mouth as desperation takes hold. Is it something so good just can't function no more? When love, love will tear us apart again.
Why is the bedroom so cold turned away on your side? Is my timing that flawed our respect run so dry? Yet there still this appeal that we've kept through our lives. Love, love will tear us apart again.
